

Conventionalism

Heidegger's "Anyone" and Contemporary Social Theory

December 4–6, 2014

Organised by Hans Bernhard Schmid
and Gerhard Thonhauser

Friday, December 5th
Department of Philosophy, NIG, 3rd floor, room 3F

Contextualization

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 09.00 – 10.00 | Andrew Buskell (Cambridge):
Heidegger and Cultural Evolution |
| 10.15 – 11.15 | Andrea Walsh (Michigan):
Reading Between the Lines:
Heidegger's das Man as a Bridge
Crossing Phenomenology and Critical Theory |
| 11.30 – 12.30 | Tomas da Costa (Wuppertal/Cologne):
Maurice Natanson's Schutzian Critique
of Heidegger's das Man |
| 14.00 – 16.00 | Joint Session
Andreas Beinstainer (Innsbruck/Freiburg):
Unobtrusive Governance:
Heidegger and Foucault on the Sources of Social Normativity
Kevin Thompson (Chicago):
The Historicity of das Man:
Foucault on Docility and Optimality |
| 16.30 – 18.30 | Joint Session
Ileana Bortun (Bucarest):
Authenticity and Friendship:
From Heidegger's "Anyone" to Arendt's "Common Sense"
Lucilla Guidi (Dresden):
The Inseparability between Anyone and Self,
Production and Action: A Critical Proposal
Between Heidegger and Arendt |

Thursday, December 4th
Faculty of Computer Science, Währinger Str. 29, room 8

Interpretation

- | | |
|---------------|--|
| 13.15 | Welcome Address |
| 13.30 – 14.30 | Mark Adam Wrathall (Oxford/Riverside):
Who is the Self of Everyday Existence? |
| 14.45 – 16.45 | Joint Session
Charlotte Knowles (London):
Das Man and Everydayness:
A New Interpretation
Jo-Jo Koo (Skidmore):
Heidegger's Underdeveloped
Conception of the Undifferentiatedness of Everyday Human Existence:
Its Clarification, Significance, and
Critical Potential |
| 17.15 – 18.15 | Tobias Keiling (Freiburg):
Becoming Accountable – But for What? The Importance of Authenticity
and the Unavoidability of Theory |

Saturday, December 6th
Department of Philosophy, NIG, 3rd floor, room 3D

Conceptualization

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 09.00 – 10.00 | Hans Bernhard Schmid (Vienna):
The First Person and its Social Roles |
| 10.15 – 11.15 | Gerhard Thonhauser (Vienna):
"Cultural Master" or "Reiterating Parodist":
A Butlerian Reading of Heidegger on Social Change? |
| 11.30 – 12.30 | Dirk Setton (Frankfurt):
An I that is Anybody:
Normativity and Freedom in Heidegger's Man |
| 14.00 – 16.00 | Joint Session
Martin Weichold (Göttingen):
Social Authenticity:
Towards a Heideggerian Analysis of Social Change
Christian Schmidt (Leipzig):
How to change das Man? |
| 16.30 – 17.30 | Dieter Thomä (St. Gallen):
The Danger of Being Ridden by a Type:
Remarks on Heidegger, Hegel, and Diderot |