

ACTING UNDER THE “ GUISE OF THE BAD ”?
PRACTICAL RATIONALITY
AND EVIL ACTION

International Conference
May 15th – May 17th, 2014

Organized by

Herlinde Pauer-Studer (ERC-Project “Distortions of Normativity,” Department of Philosophy, University of Vienna)
and Hans Bernhard Schmid (Department of Philosophy, University of Vienna)

Thursday, May 15th
Aula Campus Altes AKH

Friday, May 16th
NIG, Lecture Room 2i

Saturday, May 17th
NIG, Lecture Room 2i

09.00 – 10.30 Joseph Raz (Columbia/Oxford):
The Guise of the Bad

09.00 – 10.30 Sergio Tenenbaum (Toronto):
The Guise of
the Guise of the Bad

09.30 – 11.00 Hans Bernhard Schmid (Vienna):
Evil and Hate

10.45 – 12.15 Fabienne Peter (Warwick):
The Good, the Bad,
and the Uncertain

10.45 – 12.15 Ben Bramble (Vienna):
Resurrecting the Evaluative Conception of Desire

11.15 – 12.45 Mark Timmons (Tucson, Arizona):
Love of Honor, Emulation, and the Devilish Vices in Kant’s Ethics

14.00 – 15.30 Claudia Card (Wisconsin):
Taking Pride in Being Bad

14.00 – 15.30 Arto Laitinen (Tampere):
On Some Counter-Examples to the Guise of the Good-Thesis

13.00 – 14.30 Christoph Halbig (Giessen):
Turning Bad Into Good
and Vice Versa: Schelerian
Thoughts on Ressentiment

15.45 – 17.15 Sebastian Rödl (Leipzig):
Practical Necessity

15.45 – 17.15 Herlinde Pauer-Studer (Vienna):
Bad Action and Constitutive Accounts of Agency